Art in reference to description

The artwork I have chosen is a self-made artwork consisting of four figures, each represented by a soap I felt was relevant to my topic. I began with all of the figures are placed in a black box that is lined with pictures representing the mood state of the people sitting inside. Each tells a story that describes feelings of being trapped or being stuck, feeling like you could easily drown in your sea of noisy thoughts and not find a way out, and having progress in various aspects of your life get destroyed by crippling anxiety.
