

Politics G2
Title of the paper- International Relations

Semester III	Subject Code- A31606	Lectures- 60
--------------	----------------------	--------------

Objectives:

- To acquaint students with the fundamentals of International relations and to help students identify the major actors in international system, their functions and interaction.
- To provide students insights into significant issues those are largely the legacies of the Cold War.
- To enable students to identify and describe the major processes in international system including globalisation, development and security.
- To enable students to take a multidisciplinary approach in studying International relations wherein helping them to combine historical depth with the complexity of political and economic spheres.
- To make students understand the significance of peace and security in the present context and initiatives for establishing a new order for international peace and security.
- To prepare students for competitive examinations of public services.

Unit 1: Introduction to International Relations	10 lectures
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Definition, scope and relevance b. Approaches to International Relations- Realism, Neo-liberalism and Feminist approach c. State and Non-state actors (Global, inter-state and sub-state actors)

Unit 2: World order since 1945	13 lectures
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Cold war b. Soviet disintegration c. Emergence of new world order since 1991

Unit 3: Development and Security	13 lectures
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Human Development b. Human Security- changing nature of security c. Contemporary threats to human security Post reading material- Significance of Peace and UN efforts for promotion of World peace.

Unit 4: International political economy	12 lectures
a. International Monetary Fund, World Bank and World Trade Organisation b. Regional economic integration- i) European Union ii) ASEAN c. Globalisation and the changing nature of State
Study Related Activities – Guest Lectures, Class Presentations, Assignments, Library and Class tests etc...	12 lectures

References:

17. Baylis John and Smith Steve (ed); The Globalisation of World Politics: An introduction to international relations; Oxford University Press; US; 2001
18. Goldstein Joshua; International Relations; Pearson education Inc; New Delhi;2003
19. Mansbach Richard and Taylor Kirstein; Introduction to Global Politics; Routledge; New York; 2012
20. Palmer and Perkins; International Relations: The World Community in Transition; AITBS; New Delhi; Latest edition
21. Lawson Stephanie; International Relations; Polity; UK; 2004
22. Dr. Muthaih Krishnaveni; International Relations; Himalaya Publishing House; Mumbai;2001
23. Basu Rumki(ed); International Politics: Concepts, Theories and Issues; Sage Pub; New Delhi;2012
24. Khanna V.N.; International Relations; Vikas Publishing House; New Delhi; Latest Edition
25. Wenger Andreas and Zimmerman Doron; International Relations- from cold war to the Globalised world; Viva Books; Delhi; Latest edition

Marathi References:

1. Pendse Aruna and Sahastrabudhe Uttara; Antarrashtriya Sambandh; Orient Longman; Mumbai;2008

Politics G2
Title of the paper- India and the World

Semester IV	Subject Code- A41606	Lectures- 60
--------------------	-----------------------------	---------------------

Objectives:

- To equip students with perspectives to understand India and its role in world affairs.
- To acquaint students with the fundamentals of foreign policy and to help students identify the major factors in international system that influence making of foreign policy.
- To help students understand various politico-security issues and enable them to appreciate India's efforts at maintaining world peace.
- To enable students to take a multidisciplinary approach in studying India's foreign policy wherein helping them to combine historical depth with the complexity of political and economic spheres.
- To make students understand relations between India and other major countries of the world and India's role in Asian (south and west) politics.
- To introduce students to international and regional organisations and India's role in these organisations.
- To prepare students for competitive examinations of public services.

Unit 1: Foreign policy of India	12
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Determinants and Objectives b. India's Foreign Policy before and after 1991 c. Decision making Institutions

Unit 2- India's politico- security issues	11
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. India's disarmament policy b. Nuclear policy c. India's world view on Peace and Security

Unit 3: India's relations with other countries	15
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. India and major powers- US and China b. India and its neighbours- Pakistan, Bangladesh and Sri Lanka c. India and West - Asia

Unit 4: India and organizations of the world	10
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. India and UN b. India and SAARC c. India and BRICS

Study Related Activities – Guest Lectures, Class Presentations, Assignments, Library and Class tests etc...	12
---	-----------

References:

1. Ganguly Sumit (ed); India's Foreign Policy: Retrospect and Prospect; Oxford University Press, New Delhi; 2011
2. Tharoor Shashi; Pax Indica: India and the World of the 21st century; Penguin Books Ltd; Haryana; 2012
3. Khanna V.N.; Foreign Policy of India; Neha Publishers and Distributors; New Delhi; 1999
4. Dutt V.P; India's Foreign Policy in a changing world; Vikas Publishing House; Noida; 2011
5. Bajpai Kanti and Pant Harsh(ed); India's Foreign Policy; Oxford University Press; New Delhi
6. Dr. Muthaih Krishnaveni; International Relations; Himalaya Publishing House; Mumbai; 2001
7. Basu Rumki(ed); International Politics: Concepts, Theories and Issues; Sage Pub; New Delhi; 2012

Marathi references:

1. Dr. Deolankar Shailendra; Bharat ani Jag; Sakal Prakashan; Pune; 2015
2. Dr Deolankar Shailendra; Bharatache Parrashtra Dhoran
3. Tikekar Maneesha; Bharat ani Bharatache Shejari

