Activity Report

PEN (Poets Essayists and Novelists) International at St Mira's

Number of Participants:75

28th September 2018 was a historic day not just for St Mira's but Pune. PEN International had a four day conference at the International Centre, SPPU starting on the 25th of September 2018. 100 writers from 80 different countries converged in Pune to participate in various events including a Bashwari which involved various groups singing the abhangas of Sant Dyaneshwar, Namdev and Tukaram as they walked from the University to Bal Gandharva.

PEN is a remarkable organisation that strives to give voice to the voiceless and speak out against injustice. On the 28th of September 2018 four of the writers came to St Mira's to discuss their work with the students and faculty. Marjan Strojjan, the current president of "Writers for Peace Committee" based in Slovenia read out his poems and in the question and answer session talked about the World War, the Bosnian crisis and concluded on a poignant note that of all the human rights nothing can be singularly more important than the right to life.

Milagros Socroo a journalist from Venezuela discussed the dangers of a narco government and the crisis in her country. Eduardo Blandon a journalist from Guatemala brought out the importance of education. Thangi Changthe a linguist currently placed in Shillong elaborated on her research in Tibeto-Burman languages. She said there are four root languages in India being the Indo Aryan, Dravidian, Bangla and Tibeto-Burman. She also talked about the marginalisation of the North East.

The students actively engaged in the question and answer session and the entire exchange was most rewarding.

StockMIND Seminar

Speaker: Mr. Nihal Khan, Senior Regional Manager – ICICI Securities Ltd.

A seminar on STOCKmind Season 7 was conducted for SYBBA and TYBBA students on the 28th November 2018.

StockMIND is an annual, nationwide virtual stockmarket competition for college students, which is in its 7th season. Students from each college compete for 7 market days and the topper of the college represents the college on the national level and various prizes are given. All participants are given a participation certificate. StockMIND comes as an interesting & fun event to learn about stock market and investing skills.

The speaker Mr. Khan taught the students about the stock market, the different stock exchanges and the two main stock exchanges of India namely National Stock Exchange and Bombay Stock Exchange. The students were also given an insight into the different types of sectors of the economy and how the different seasons and festivals affect the stocks of different sectors.

The most interesting part though of the seminar was the demonstration of trading in equities. He also explained about various aspects like why the starting bell of the market floor is the most important and how even a paisa matters to trader while buying or selling his equity. He told the students about the different options for trading i.e Cash Buy, Cash Sale, Margin Buy, Margin Sale.

It was an extremely practical seminar where the students took home something new. It received a good response from the students wherein they learned the basics of investing and that investing in equities is not for the person only but for their future generations too.

E- commerce Workshop-08th Jan – 10th Jan 2019, 9.00am -10.00am

Facilitating students with not only the complete but also the latest trends in their field of study is a common practice at St. Mira's college. Keeping this vision in mind, a session on various topics of E- commerce like, threats to an online business, viruses, cyber law and others were covered. The speaker of this enlightening session for TYBBA, was Ms. Snehal Joglekar, from the B.Sc department of the Mira family. This session aimed at providing a clear understanding of the online business functionality and administration.

It highlighted how, in the modern market, an online platform for a business comes with equal power and risk. Having profound knowledge about this particular subject, Ms. Snehal was able to fluently address the dire need of providing the students with the facts and obliterating all myths. The talk also greatly contributed to the students' understanding of the online business world. The essence of all the practices in the students' study is their interdependence and relation with theory. This talk elaborated on the link between the business set up on an electronic platform and the physical components that require application of other theories studied.

This session was one step in the path of aligning with the vision set for the students and to provide them with the required adeptness in the dimensions of their study.

Under the aegis of Department of Accountancy, the Third year Costing students of St.Mira's College for Girls, visited the Pune Zila Sahakari Dudh Utpadak Sangh Ltd., famous as Katraj Dairy on the 21st December, 2018

Are the milk packets delivered at our door steps every morning really fresh?" .The students visit was aimed at learning about the 'milk processing' industry.

The students were oriented through a video which informed about the processing of milk in the dairy and the machines used, the labourers required during the processing of the milk. The dairy collects 2 lakh litres of milk everyday from nearby villages resulting into a financial turnover of over Rs. 250 crores per year.

The collection of milk from villages is transported through cold storage tankers to the center at katraj pune, tested for their purity and contaminants, processed and distributed. The dairy distributes milk and milk products like pasteurized/ Homogenized- Cow Milk, Toned Milk, Double Toned Milk, Standardized Milk, Full Cream Milk, Cow & Buffalo Cream and Ghee, Shrikhand, Paneer, Curd, Flavoured Milk, Lassi, kalakand, Kaju Barfi and many more products.

The dairy uses the traditional processing method. There are various machines used for processing the milk. There is a boiler which initiates the process of making steam that is used for homogenization and pasteurization. This was followed by detailing of the Effluent Treatment Plant (ETP) and further the refrigeration and Packaging Section.

The students gained knowledge regarding treatment of milk before it is packed and delivered at consumers door steps.

The visit ended on a sweet note when the students were treated with a complimentary ice-cream manufactured at Katraj Dairy!

Lecture Series I

Development Experiences of India and China

Day & Date: Friday, 11th Jan, 2019

Venue: A.V. Room

Resource person: Ms Arundhati Agte, Assistant Professor, Dept of Economics, S.P. College, Pune

Target Audience: TYBA Eco (special) and TYBCom (A,B,C) divisions

On 11th Jan, 2019, Ms Arundhati Agte delivered a thought provoking lecture on the "Development Experiences of India and China" to the TYBA students of Economics and to the TYBCom students who offer either the paper on International Economics (Div A) or Indian and Global Economic Development (Div B and C).

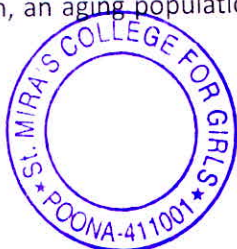

She provided an overview of the Chinese economy whereby she highlighted the fact that China was a Manufacturing economy with the world's largest population making it the fastest growing consumer market. Its current HDI ranking stands at 86th (UNDP) while the Poverty head count ratio is at 1.9% (World Bank sources). In the Chinese dragon economy, the share of agriculture has reduced considerably, while that of manufacturing and services has increased to 55%. It has a one party communist party regime as against India which has witnessed multi-party politics and coalition governments of late. It appears that the one party rule in China, although impinging on peoples' freedoms has delivered a better economic performance of the economy.

Ms Agte described the awakening of China under three regimes, viz. those of Mao, Deng and Post Deng. The Maosist regime since 1949, focussed on agricultural sectors with less industrialisation (of only about 3-4%). The Deng regime was a period of 'controlled reforms' with focus on market orientation and export led growth. Post Deng, there has been a continuation of reforms which has focussed on more FDI but with continued dominance of the public sector, making the regime similar to the Maoist one with greater centralised control.

Ms Agte drew parallels and made comparisons between the Indian economy and the Chinese one with respect to diverse areas which included agricultural, industrial and educational reforms, population growth, family planning, female labour participation rate, migration, SEZ model of industrialisation, R & D, Education and Sports. The Chinese model has witnessed controlled reforms under a totalitarian regime whereas the Indian economy witnessed regulated reforms under democracy. China's growth story vis-a-vis that of India's shows the former having an edge. This seems to be due to China's militant political leadership, more emphasis on creation of infrastructure better implementation of schemes, one child policy, higher female labour force participation rate, cheap labour, stress on public sector in the hands of local rather than central governments, and attractive incentives to Make and Innovate in China.

Ms Agte also gave the students an insight into the challenges ahead of the dragon. These included higher labour costs, inflation, an aging population, higher foreign debt (Debt to GDP ratio is 300%), environmental problems (associated with greater industrialisation and greater carbon emissions) slow down of Chinese exports and rising income inequalities.

In spite of these challenges before China, Ms Agte opined that there is a 40-50 year gap between the Indian and Chinese development pace. India will have to accelerate her growth parameters so as to bridge this gap.

The lecture was well received by the students. The concluding part of the session was interactive with the students posing pertinent question on prospects, challenges and lessons to be learnt from China's growth story.

Activity Report

This year the International Organisation of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) promoted investor awareness by organising the World Investor Week from 01st October to 07th October 2018. To celebrate the World Investor Week, the Department of Accountancy organised a guest lecture on "Investor Awareness" on 05th October 2018 for the M.Com students. The lecture was conducted by Dr. John Gilbi, a financial markets expert (Vice Principal, St. Vincent's College).

He discussed about equity shares, derivatives and mutual funds. Strategies for investments in equity and mutual fund were also shared with the students. Emphasizing on mis-leading advertisements and false claims regarding returns on investments by fraudulent companies, he warned against investments in the same by having realistic investment objectives.

This lecture enabled the students in understanding the investment avenues which are growth oriented, which will help them in their later years in achieving the objective of capital appreciation necessary to beat the inflation.

The lecture was organised by Ms. Meenakshi Wagh, the subject teacher, which aimed at introducing the students to the nuances of investments in equity and mutual funds.

Report of the Event: Guest Lecture on 'IFRS' – 17th July 2018

A guest lecture on 'International Financial Reporting Standards' (IFRS) was organized by the Department of Accountancy for the S.Y.B.Com students and conducted by a Chartered Accountant, Mr. Akshay Oke. The lecture explicated the rationale of IFRS as to have a common accounting language and to achieve the objective of better transparency in financial statements in the business world. A comparative analysis of IFRS vis-a-vis Ind AS was given. It also touched upon the Ind AS convergence as India has not adopted the IFRS standards. Implications of IFRS in the context of registered companies including Banks and NBFCs were detailed out.

This lecture gave an opportunity to the students to delve into IFRS which is an integral part of the accounting system.

Activity Report

Department of Business Economics and Banking: 2018-2019

The Department of Business Economics and Banking organised a workshop for the FYBCom and TYBCom students specialising in Banking and Finance on Personal Financial Planning.

The workshop was conducted by Mr. Atul Gaikwad, a Certified Financial Planner and a SEBI registered Investment Advisor on 28th January 2019. The basic purpose of the workshop was to impart financial education to the students, thereby enabling them to comprehend the nuances of Personal Financial Planning, highly crucial for one's financial health.

The session was divided into two parts: The first half comprised of an explication of the concept of personal financial planning and its various components. The objective of this session was to create a base of personal financial planning which would enable students in analysing a sample financial plan and thereby recommend ways to improvise the same. In the second session the participants were provided with a hypothetical case study of an individual with details like occupation; age; income, expenses, savings and investments; number, profile and age of dependents. On the basis of this information the participants analysed the financial plan and highlighted its strengths as well as commented on the probable changes that could be effected by the individual to improve his plan.

The speaker concluded the session with a critical evaluation of the presentations made by the participants. He also briefed the participants on career opportunities in the financial markets.

The workshop was organised by Ms. Meenakshi Wagh.

National Interdisciplinary Seminar "Karl Marx and Mahatma Gandhi: Revisiting Ideas and Thoughts in the Contemporary World"
February 8-9, 2019

The Departments of Politics and Public Administration, along with the Departments of Economics and Department of History organised a two-day Interdisciplinary National Seminar on 8-9 February 2019. The objective of the Seminar was to commemorate the 200th and 150th birth anniversary of Karl Marx and Mahatma Gandhi, to explore Marxian and Gandhian ideology and analyze its relevance to current issues and problems in the modern society.

Inauguration and Keynote Address:

The Seminar was inaugurated by Mr. A. K. Roy (Dunu Roy- Director, Hazards Center, New Delhi) and delivered the Keynote address. Dunu Roy opined that the world is passing through grim times, and there is a need to think 'right' before one thinks of how to 'put things right'. Through Mr. Roy's actual experience, he shared how to use dialectics to one's advantage. He stated that while Marx didn't go beyond Capital, Gandhian thought moves beyond it. Mahatma Gandhi was so right in his times that Mother Nature has enough for everyone's need and not for everyone's greed. He claimed that Gandhian ideology offers a different perspective on how harmonious relations between individuals and between groups can possibly offer solutions to deal with our emotions and vulnerabilities. Mr. Roy elaborated the understanding of the same by citing examples related to present day gender issues as well as environment and climate change. To conclude, Mr. Roy reiterated the need to go beyond Marxian and Gandhian thoughts and connect to other social thinkers like Dr. B.R. Ambedkar and their thoughts.

Session I: Trends in Marxism and Contemporary Relevance of Marxism

The speakers were Dr. Radhika Seshan (Professor, Head, Dept. of History, Savitribai Phule Pune University) and Dr. Sanjyot Apte (Vice-Principal, and HoD, Dept of Politics, S. P. College, Pune). Dr. Seshan, beginning with the basics on Marxism, explained how idealism is a human condition and how the exploited masses themselves do not understand their exploitation. She said exploitation is systemized and therefore to change the form of exploitation, there is a need to change the system itself. For Marx, the means to change this system was Revolution while Mahatma Gandhi stressed on Non-violence.

Dr. Apte exclaimed that Neo-Marxism helps us in understanding trends in Marxism in the third world. Since global politics is all about global economics, she stated that struggles between countries should be seen in economic context rather than territorial. She said that Marxism has brought issues of development to the third world countries. She concluded by saying theories are not given to understand the world but to change the world.

Session II - Marxism and Mass Movement

The speaker at the session was Mr. Ajit Abhyankar (Secretary, CPI(M), Maharashtra) Mr. Abhyankar stressed that Marxism has is a philosophy or a theory as well as practice. He opined that Marxism is an applied philosophy; it is a philosophy of action and movements and therefore people do get attracted to this ideology. Mr. Abhyankar said that he believes in Marxism as a spiral advancement of a society. He stressed on three relations in one's life that make man, one, Man and Nature, second. Man and Man and the third, Man with his own self and that is the most confusing relation of the three.

Marx believed in labour as the creativity of man, hence Marx wanted to overthrow the system to bring back the creative life and establish a human society for all based on cooperation.

Day 2- Session I - Ideas and Thoughts of Mahatma Gandhi

The speakers were Mr. Milind Bokil, Sociologist and Writer, and Dr. Chaitra Redkar, Associate Professor, Dept. of Politics, SNDT University, Mumbai, who shared their thoughts on Mahatma Gandhi.

Mr. Bokil elaborated on the concept of Ahimsa as practised by Mahatma Gandhi at six different levels. In today's times, he opined that Ahimsa is a key to understand Mahatma Gandhi and Mahatma Gandhi is the key to understand ahimsa.

Dr Redkar spoke on the liberal democratic criticisms as seen in the writing of Mahatma Gandhi. She said that Gandhiji was a supporter of participative democracy and at the same time, how Gandhiji stressed upon sustainable local economics. Dr. Redkar said that there is a need to put the teaching and the writing of Mahatma Gandhi in contemporary context without undermining the real meaning of the concepts.

Valedictory Address:

The Valedictory Session was delivered by Dr Rohini Sahni, Professor (Retd.), Dept. of Economics, SPPU. As we all are products of our times, Dr.Sahni stated that Mahatma Gandhi was a product of the Indian Independence Movement while Karl Marx was a product of the atrocities of Capitalism. In the light of the two great thinkers, Dr. Sahni stated that in the light of the problems India is facing, we need conceive, explain and discuss the ideas of Gandhi and Marx to adopt and adapt them in our daily lives in different contexts and situations. She concluded by saying that as one is actually experimenting with different models in the modern times, there is a need to work on models and ideas of human survival and sustainable happiness.

The National Seminar received research papers on Mahatma Gandhi and Karl Marx, exploring various ideas of Marx and Gandhi in the light of challenges to human society, rural development, economic globalisation, cleanliness as well as on the Indian Independence movement. The research papers will be published in a UGC-approved journal. The seminar was well attended by students, academicians and researchers.

On behalf of St. Mira's College for Girls and Principal, Dr. Gulshan Gidwani, the Departments of Politics and Public Administration, along with the Departments of Economics and Department of History would like to thank the parent university, Savitribai Phule Pune University for sponsoring the seminar. The Departments also takes the opportunity to thank all the speakers, academicians, researchers, participants and students for their academic and intelligent contribution to the Seminar.

Report on 'Nuances of Contracts'

Under the aegis of the Commerce Department, Department of Accountancy had organized a Guest Lecture on 'Nuances of Contracts' on Saturday, 8th September, 2018 in the A.V. Room between 10 am to 11 am under the subject of Mercantile Law. The speaker was Advocate Balasaheb Bendre, a practicing Lawyer at the Shivaji Nagar Court, Pune.

Adv. Bendre told the students about relevance of Contract Act in today's world in spite of being so old. He gave an insight into various types of contracts that they enter into everyday; the steps that are involved while entering into a contract stressing on significance of 'Consideration'. Further, he discussed each step namely free consent, whether a person is competent to get into a contract, the person should be of sound mind and the person should not be disqualified by the court of law in detail. He enriched the students with various examples of cases he had taken up during his advocacy.

He concluded that from - Agreement to a Contract is a journey !

Advocate Bendre shared his experience at the ILS Law College too and specified that being a professor and being a lawyer are different. According to him, lawyers have a challenge and responsibility to help the clients and protect their interests. The Contract Act is made to protect the interest of the parties to a contract and is the basis of human existence for getting various facilities'.

The students gained rich insights from Advocate Bendre's work experience of 50 years as he is practicing law since 1961 and still actively practicing law.

SPPU SPONSORED STATE-LEVEL SEMINAR, ORGANISED BY THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT ON
"RECONSTRUCTING PERCEPTIONS OF WOMANHOOD: MYTH, BODY AND TABOO"
15th and 16th February, 2019
REPORT

The scope of the seminar was to examine past perceptions towards the woman's body particularly with respect to the natural phenomenon of menstruation, the taboos associated with the woman and how these perceptions have changed due to corporate, social, religious and cultural interventions and thereafter manifested themselves in myth, cinema and advertising.

The idea behind this students' seminar was to encourage a mentor/mentee relationship for advanced learners and to introduce students to the world of research and paper writing. Eleven students present their paper based on data they gathered working in the field. These papers were published as part of the conference proceedings.

The key objectives of the seminar were: To bring about awareness of myths and taboos particularly with respect to menstrual hygiene in the social spheres; To understand feminist engagement with the woman's body; To ensure exposure to work done by the non-profit sector and NGOs in the area of women's health and menstrual hygiene; To map power structures and cultural influences in the areas of the woman's body; To chart out the various revolutionary movements to free women from being trapped by their body; To understand how the body has been translated; To share the work done by students of St Mira's as part of a yearlong project on menstrual hygiene and physically challenged women and translating myths associated with it in various social sectors.

Since the English department is part of the arts, performance and text cannot be separated. Auresha from the FYBA performed Aigiri Nandini. This song describes goddess Durga (Mahishasura Mardini) who is the daughter of the mountain and makes the whole earth happy. Her body is well formed due to which all demons also intended to exploit her or use her for their own pleasure. She protects herself and the earth from exploitation and destruction caused by these demons. In the next dance 36 girls came together, practiced hard to celebrate being beautiful and bold. They were instructed by Swapnil Desai from Mumbai.

This was followed by the more academic part of the seminar which includes lectures by our remarkable resource persons. Prof Malavika Karlekar (Editor and Archivist, New Delhi) spoke on "Visual Histories", Dr Chandrani Chatterjee (Dept. of Eng., SPPU) on "Gender in Translation: Cultural Texts and the Politics of Alterity", Dr Sneha Gole (Women's Studies Centre, SPPU) on "Bodies in Struggle/ of Struggle: Rethinking Femininity in the Movement", Dr Manisha Bandishti on "Healthy Bodies" and Dr Ujjwal Nene (KEM Hospital) on "Bodily Perceptions Taboos and Myth". Eleven students presented their papers on various topics like body image, mythology, semiotics and religion which have been published in the proceedings.

The aim was to examine whether womanhood has really been reconsidered and in what ways. Thus the seminar attempts to shed some light on the process of reconstructing these various perceptions of womanhood.
