Scriptwriting Workshop at St Mira's on Sunday 9th August 2020 from 10am onwards.

Number of participants: 41

St Mira's College for Girls, conducted a 4 hours virtual scriptwriting workshop open to everyone on Sunday 9th August, 2020 from 10 am onward with Aditya Kripalani who held his audience spell bound for the entire time.

Aditya Kripalani, an Indian filmmaker, writer, musician and producer made his directorial debut with the award winning film Tikli and Laxmi Bomb (2017). He went on to make films like Totta Pataaka Item Maal and Devi Aur Hero which received international acclaim because of the powerful social issues they address.

All the way from Singapore, Aditya took time out to cover key points in scriptwriting starting with the fundamental issue, "Why do we write?" He felt writing is a form of wish fulfillment, differentiated between a plot driven movie as opposed to a character centric one, appreciated inner conflict over outer conflict, explained the 3 Act structure of setting up the problem, confronting it and craftfully resolving it and Lajos Egri's character bone structure which fleshes out the physical, social and psychological factors that make up character. The session was wonderfully interactive and ended with an exciting discussion on his movies, becoming a writer and believing in one's craft.

The Department of English has been hosting, for the past three years, 6 Clubs managed by a minimum of 3 student coordinators each and 1 staff member. This year saw the introduction of a new writing club that was informal and focussed on current events called The Mira Press. The 6 Clubs for the students and by the students are

1. The Litwits and JNK- The LitWits Club of the Department of English hosted its Introductory Session for the academic year 2020 – 21 on the 28 th of July 2020 on Zoom at 2:00 PM. The session was open to all the students of the college and was attended by a group of 26 enthusiastic girls, including a few alumni. The session was highly interactive with ice-breaking activities like Name Acrostics, Fun Facts about Myself, discussions on students' favourite characters, books, TV shows, fandoms and accounts of personal achievements. The session also included a video screening of all the activities of the LitWits from the past and welcomed suggestions for activities of interest for the future. The sessions not only enabled the members to get to know each other more but also allowed them a space for informal social interaction which the pandemic has denied them for a long time. After the orientation held on the 25 th of July, the members of LitWits and JNK spent time planning sessions that would be feasible to conduct online that fellow students would be able to connect with. This resulted in a month-long virtual celebration of art which began with JNK's session on the 21 st of August 2020 where everyone was invited for a screening of K-pop group BTS's new release 'Dynamite'. The new music video was appreciated for its vibrant visuals as well as retro themes which were all conveyed for the first time in English by the South-Korean band. This was followed by a Poetry Appreciation Session on 22 nd August 2020 by the LitWits with enthusiastic participants who shared their original works of poetry which were appreciated and received constructive feedback. The Instagram page of the Club was revived to increase engagement with students which was severely lacking due to the lockdown situation and the lack of face to face communication. The LitWits celebrated stories and poetry in various forms over the month of September. Sessions were held by the club every weekend, beginning with the first session on 5 th September 2020 called "Poetry Appreciation" which invited original works for presentation on the themes of 'Silver', 'Mortality', 'Window' and 'Winter'. The themes were chosen by conducting a poll on the Instagram page. On the 11 th of September, a session called "Reading Sorority" was held in which two students, Harleen Kaur Grewal and Shreya Bhide, read a few chapters from the book

Gone Girl by Gillian Flynn. On the 12 th of September, the September Saga continued with Prose Appreciation in which students presented their original works of prose. On the 16 th of the month, the club held a session on Flash Fiction in which participants were given prompts to write a short story of their own and on the 19 th of September, students got together once more to present original pieces of writing in various forms such as Drabble, Dribble, Sudden Fiction and Flash Fiction. On the 18 th of September, 'Unwinding Fridays' was initiated wherein all members and participants gathered virtually to listen to a specially curated Spotify playlist together to destress. Some students did artwork while others completed assignments as they collectively listened to the playlist. The second 'Unwinding Friday' session was held on the 25 th of the month in which an audio drama called 'The Two Princes' was played on Spotify for everyone to enjoy and relax together. On the 26 th of September, the LitWits organised a two-hour special session on the theme "Death and Resurrection" in which students presented various forms of poetry, prose and flash fiction.

The JNK organised a week-long celebration of "Kawaii and Chibi" from 28th September 2020 to 3rd October 2020 in which members shared their artworks, stickers, GIFs, memes and other creations using a variety of applications. YouTube videos such as "Tutorials to Draw", "How to look Kawaii" and "5 Kawaii Aesthetic Fun Apps You Need" were shared. The session started with introducing the concepts of "Kawaii" and "Chibi" through a historical perspective to the members and ended by showcasing some of the artworks made and shared by the members throughout the week.

PANEL DISCUSSION

1. Pamela Phillipose

Principal Incharge
St. Mira's College for Girls, Pune.

She started her speech by throwing light to 4 major references: gender, media, pandemic and the policies made during the pandemic. According to her Gender differences in the society leads to 3 different phenomena – social disintegration, failure of the policy and economic distress. Regarding media she talked how it has over the time become quite cynical due to structural flaws. There is lack of gender representation which is one of the most prominent reasons behind media being perceived as antagonistic in nature by some. There is more of male centred content with continuous trivialisation, objectification and sensationalisation of women. The media is heading to a ruling party friendly kind of an environment with constant creeping communal bias being showcased by it.

With the pandemic, there has been increasing job precarity. Workforce sector also underwent gender discrimination with women professionals being the first to be fired. Several cases of communal and gender issues rose up in the country.

For instance, a pregnant Muslim woman was denied admission to the hospital due to the fear of the virus being spread after the entire “Jamaat” incident took place in New Delhi. Media is annulling when it comes to ‘Freedom of expression’. There are certain tragic flaws of the media as it (a) fails to question the government policies implemented during the lockdown whether it be regarding female migrant workers or the Shramik trains perse, (b) fails to capture the full dimension. For instance, there were many cases of domestic violence across the country which were not registered by the police who referred such cases to be mere misunderstanding between people, (c) online platforms for domestic abuse were reducing, (d) cases of sexual harassment, marital rape and abortion of unwanted pregnancies could not cover much reportage. Another important issue she highlights is of the inadequate understanding of social and economic trends.

Lack of women unemployment has led to a precarious gender gap. Lack of critical scrutiny of government documents/data has strengthened the masculine women narrative. And lastly, she concludes how the state policies are acting as a flaw in response to the pandemic.

2. Japleen Pasricha

Her entire talk revolved around how stories from different parts of the country related to gender and the pandemic were covered by the media? She began by drawing two examples: (a) Telangana Mother who walked 1400km to bring her son from Hyderabad and (b) Jyoti Kumari who cycled from Delhi to Bihar. She poses a very strong question to the panel: “Why do we glorify stories that come out from people’s miseries?” All kinds of sacrifices made and bravery showed by women are romanticised to a large extent along with their struggle stories. This behaviour ultimately questions the agency of poverty. Economically backward students are not allowed to attend good schools the reason of which is portrayed being lack of intelligence and hard work of the students. This pandemic affected the reproductive services adversely as it enhanced the fear of infection. There was also a rise in unsafe abortions. She further stressed on the concept of workplace and how its definition had changed entirely due to the pandemic with the new “work from home” being encouraged by most of the organisations. With this forms of non-physical sexual harassment came up taking a new face due to digitalisation. Newer formats of sexual harassment developed with girls getting digitally abused by their colleagues during an ongoing video call or a meeting. This kind of inappropriate behaviour has now evolved through the digital interface. She concludes her talk by focusing on the future of Feminism in the Post Covid times which will be harboured by a strong anchoring of women in an equitable world.

Principal Incharge
St. Mira's College for Girls, Pune

3. Sharmila Kalgutkar

Her main emphasis during the entire talk was how 'public health' emerged as a social institution during this pandemic but also it has become discriminatory for certain sections of the society including women, transgenders and senior citizens.

She highlights the aspect of health and superstition as women began to be looked through superstitious views from certain angles. We saw how women were not allowed to come forward for vaccine trials for COVID. Health and medical services came into prominence and people started becoming more cautious than ever before regarding their health. Media played a crucial role in this case when it came to spread awareness about the virus and the precautions to be taken by the people.

Advertisements had an important place when it came to make people more alert and aware about their health and they played an important role in making people realise how we take medical services for granted and that we should now realise that nothing remains more important than our lives.

She pointed out few major forms of gender discrimination during the lockdown:

- (i) The society has witnessed women and her duty as caretakers by risking their own lives during the pandemic. Despite undergoing so much of bad treatment they remained firm in performing their duties while carrying out the household work and other chores. As per the Covid positive, cases women are less but level of stress and depression shown them is high.
- (ii) Sex workers had also lost their livelihood and no new safeguards have been designed for them.
- (iii) Cases of harassment of female patients and nurses also came in the limelight which means women will always be the target of assault and violence and her dignity will continuously be hindered no matter whatever the circumstances are.
- (iv) Also when it came to education, online teaching became the new normal mode of learning for all the students across the country. People in the rural areas preferred boys' education when it came to providing the access to resources.
- (v) Even men have been the victims of the patriarchal violence as being the breadwinners of the family many of them lost their jobs and hence they became the prey of stress and depression.

Finally, she concludes by saying that we all are victims of stereotypical gender roles.

4. Geeta Seshu

Activity Report

“Shrew-Up” a performance by the theatre club- Mira Manch-Queens (2020-21)

By Sriradha Gupta and Isha Karandikar (TYBA- Student Co-ordinators)

Number of participants: 68

The pandemic has distanced students from their friends. Not going to college has taken a huge chunk away from a student's life. After the success of the play 'Log Kya Kahenge?', performed in January 2020, the girls of St. Mira's college experienced this loss tenfold. They were looking forward to a very special event—the opening of the Theatre Club. Safe to say, the girls were not very sure as to how it would go, given the situation. They missed the stage and the auditorium which had become their home. However, one of the wonders of what can be achieved through digital media and mobile phones was witnessed on 29th August 2020 on Zoom Meetings. The theatre club of the St. Mira's College English Department -The Mira Manch-Queens undertook the challenge of putting up a play online—a modern adaptation of Shakespeare's 'The Taming of the Shrew'. Though a comedy, the play brings to life some serious issues like homophobia, the feminazi attitude that can be easily passed as feminism and the setbacks of patriarchy.

The play was entirely the production of the students' club. The script was written by Isha Karandikar, Harleen Kaur Grewal, Shreya Bhide, Ummesalama Karu, Isha Bhagwat, Maitrayee Sangitrao, Vedika Limaye and Kareena Narayan. The work of refining the script was done by Khadija Lokhandwala. The play was directed and edited by Sriradha Gupta with the help of Akanksha Balkawade. The actors included Isha Karandikar, Harleen Kaur Grewal, Shreya Bhide, Isha Bhagwat, Khadija Lokhandwala, Sriradha Gupta, Akanksha Balkawade and Aditi Patil.

What is a performance without a lovely audience? The girls were pretty surprised when 70 people attended the premiere through Zoom. The audience came from across the city and consisted of the students of the college, alumni, parents, teachers, and friends. The registrations were done using Google Forms and the link was shared through emails and WhatsApp group.

This was a pre-debut activity of the Theatre Club. The Club is all set to exploit the digital format till the college reopens physically and they get back on stage.

WEBINAR ON EFFECTS OF COVID-19 ON FINANCIAL ASPECTS OF AN NGO
(IN ASSOCIATION WITH PRAYAAS CORPS)

St. Mira's College in association with Prayaas Corps organized a Webinar on Effects of Covid-19 Pandemic on finances of an NGO. The main theme of the Webinar was to enlighten the students about the financial management of an NGO during the pandemic. The webinar also aimed to equip the students with an understanding of the tough times and challenges being faced by NGOs who have been reaching out to the needy and deprived during the pandemic.

For an NGO, the primary task is to work towards social service and not financial management. But unless, the finances are sorted, the objectives cannot be achieved. So equally imperative is the recognition of the significance of financial management for an NGO. NGOs work tirelessly towards implementing projects that cater to the needs of the deprived people and in this process find it difficult to pay enough attention to financial control. This may lead to vulnerability over the financial matters. The webinar was helpful in giving insights into the effects of Covid-19 on the actual funds management by an NGO Prayaas Corps.

Mr. Jaspal Godara, the founder and CEO of Prayaas Corps, provided rich insights into the topic. He dwelt upon the sources of finance during the pre Covid-19 situation and the post Covid-19 situation. Due to the drop in the external contributions post covid-19, Prayaas Corps has to rely mainly on the internal sources viz. contributions by the members and the amounts generated from different activities carried out by them. The focus of the NGO has shifted from 'expanding the reach' to 'surviving economically' as opined by Mr. Godara.

The session kept the participants highly engaged and interested with its narratives. The participants had a lot of questions, which were patiently answered by Mr. Godara. Some of the questions put forth were; How has PM CARES fund helped the NGOs, What is the biggest obstacle faced during Covid-19 Pandemic, How many teachers are involved with 'PrayaaskiPaathshala', How do you keep yourself motivated, What are your future plans, if Covid-19 continues for a long time, How is the culture and the environment of Prayaas Corps etc. The Webinar not only provided insights about the financial management of an NGO, but also imbibed the values of service, empathy and compassion in the students.

“Revisiting SDGs in the Context of the Pandemic”
Organized by
Dept of Economics
Report

PG seminar is an annual feature of the department of Economics at ST. Mira's College for Girls, Pune. Every year we choose a contemporary theme that offers a forum for discussion and an opportunity for the students to interact with the experts in the field. This year the seminar theme was “Revisiting SDGs in the Context of the Pandemic “ in the light of the destruction and challenges posed by the Covid 19 Pandemic globally. SDGs(Sustainable Development Goals) is a charter of 17 development goals encompassing socio economic and environmental sustainability.

The seminar began with a welcome speech by Vice Principal Dr. Shalinilyer.

On Day 1-5th March - In the first session, the resource person Prof. Swati Vaidya addressed the Goal 8 of SDGs i.e the goal of productive employment and decent work. She ably addressed the critical challenge of generating gainful employment and achieving decent work conditions in India in the Covid situation. She touched upon various topics such as large scale labour migration, issue of women workers, online work and related decent work deficits.

In the second session, Prof. Renu Jogdand, presented the challenge of attaining Goal 2 – Zero Hunger. Her presentation on the Pandemic eating into our Hunger Goals was very well presented and equally well received. Using a case study approach, Prof. Renu highlighted the fact that the challenge of hunger is not limited to developing and poor countries, but it has manifested in the developed countries like USA too.

On Day 2- 6th March- The first session was about Goal 5- Gender Equality ably addressed by Prof. Arundhati Agt. She presented powerful and structured data on Gender inequalities in income, employment and health. Using various data bases and research studies she effectively put forth the argument that women, who are already a disadvantaged social group, have experienced disproportionate disadvantage due to the pandemic which include worsening gender pay gap, increasing gender violence and more adverse health and poverty outcomes.

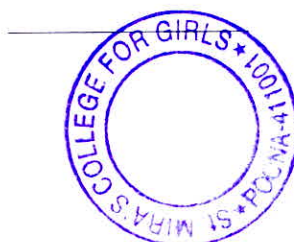

In the second session, Prof. Saili Belsare discussed the challenges of health care in the context of Goal 3- Good Health for all. She explained that the goal of good health is a multi-faced goal including MaternalMortality goals, Infant Mortalitygoals, freedom from addiction etc. She touched upon various aspects of the health care challenge in India including paucity of funds for other diseases due to covid related public health expenditure, approach towards medical education and ethics in health care. She presented a Tamil Nadu model of healthcare which has been successful in the context of public healthcare.

The seminar summary was presented by Dr. Meenal Sumant. Dr. Soniya Chavan presented vote of thanks as a conclusion to the seminar.

The seminar was coordinated by Dr. Manisha Pimpalkhare.

Students form St. Mira's as well as other colleges from Pune attended the seminar.

The Department of Sociology organized a lecture on “Lakir ke is taraf” based on Narmada Bachao Andolan by Shilpa Ballal on 24th march 2021. This helped the students to relate to the topic of social movements in their course. The discussion began with topics like motivation to make a documentary on such issues, songs as a medium of resistance, understanding the plight of the Adivasis, to emotional turmoil faced by the villagers whose life savings went underwater. This session made us realize that the Adivasi community is far more advanced in their skills of living and society in general, that their self discipline is far greater than any other community in India. It was an interactive session thus students got a chance to share their opinions and understanding about the Andolan, on the documentary which was shown to them before. It was an eye-opening lecture for all the students. The session made students question our position of privilege, and how it brings a freedom of choice along with a responsibility of making choices for those who don't have such freedom. Leaving us with a final question, Development- but at what cost? 57 participants were there for this session.
