Pranayama

Meeting recording is in progress.

Anulom Viloma Pranayama (The Alternate Nostril Breathing)

The main characteristic feature of this prāṇāyāma is alternate breathing through the left and right nostrils without or with retention of breath (kumbhaka).

Technique

1. Sit in any meditative posture.
2. Keep the spine and head straight with eyes closed.
3. Relax the body with few deep breaths.
4. Keep the left palm on the left knee in Jñāna mudra and the right hand should be in Pranav mudra.
5. Place the ring and small fingers on the left nostril and fold the middle and index finger.
6. Place the right thumb on the right nostril.
7. Breathe in from the left nostril; close the left nostril with the small and ring fingers and release the thumb from the right nostril; exhale through the right nostril.
8. Next, inhale through the right nostril.
9. At the end of inhalation, close the right nostril, open the left nostril and exhale through it.
10. This complete process is one round of the Nādisōdhana or Anuloma Viloma Prāṇāyāma Repeat 5 rounds.

Breathing Breath should be slow, steady and controlled. It should not be forced or restricted in anyway.

Benefits

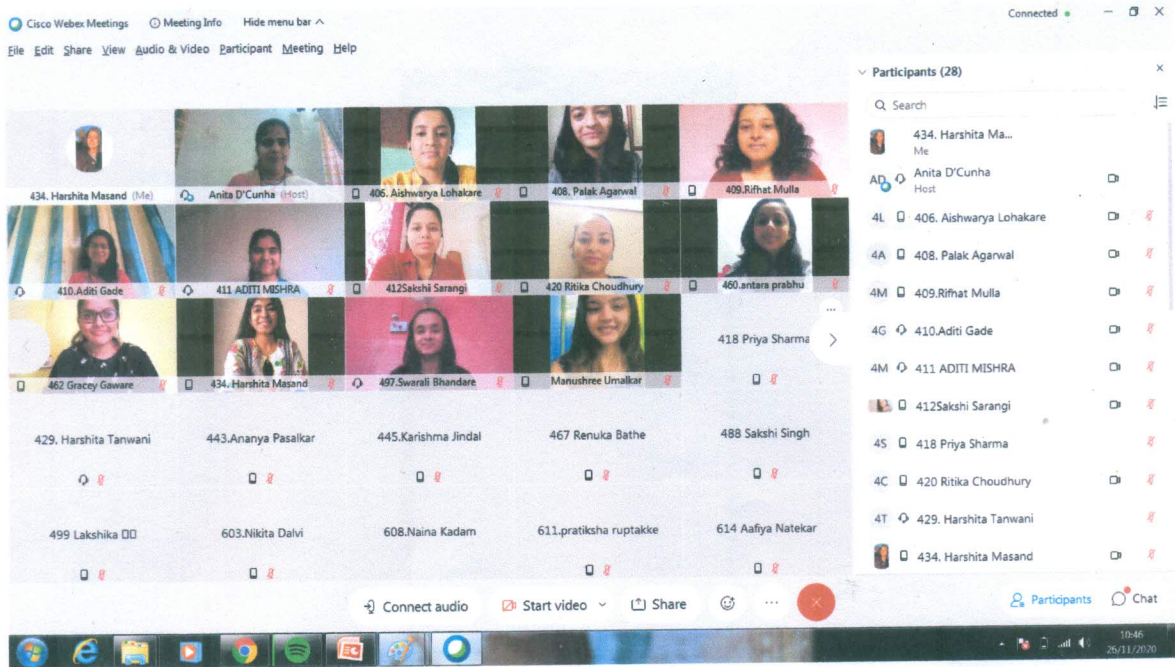

- The main purpose of this prāṇāyāma is to purify the principle channels of carrying energy called nadi's; hence nourishes the whole body.
- Induces tranquillity and helps to improve concentration.
- Increases vitality and lowers the level of stress and anxiety.
- It elevates cough disorders.
